

Family Khamsin

The Family Khamsin is the perfect tent for those people who have outgrown their backpacking tent and need additional space for their family but still in a semi – geodesic design. The tent provides a versatile shelter suitable for a wide range of conditions. It is inner pitch first, uses aluminium alloy poles and as with all Wild Country tents is guaranteed waterproof. Poles are included to convert one of the doors to a useful awning and hoods over the side doors stop rain dripping into the tent. Additional storage space can be accessed from inside one of the inners. Finally, its relatively small pack size makes it easy to carry and stash in the boot of a car. All in all the Family Khamsin is a great base for two adults and up to three children.
