The opposite end of the scale to the Rocket Bag, this pack weighs in at just 290g - making it, in backpack terms, marginally heavier than a piece of cling film. Cleverly, it's just as tough as it is light - the filmy material is waterproof and very flexible. It wraps itself snugly around whatever you put in it and holds it in place, preventing the kit inside from jiggling around, although you can't fit very much in it.

SUMMARY Good for those who keep the load to a minimum.
