Description

The Wild Country Aspect 1 retains the high-spec qualities of more expensive models, without the price tag to match.

The Aspect 1's light weight (1.92kg), large porch and excellent ventilation make it a great tent for solo backpacking, and the easy to pitch design means that it's a simple tent to use as well. The full-length side door not only offers easy access, improved ventilation options and fantastic views, but with the addition of an Awning Pole Set (sold separately) can be transformed into a proper awning to make a sheltered cooking area.

A great choice for solo travellers who want a quality tent without breaking the bank.
